

Squeak!

That's what you get for buying that cheap shoe. OUR $2.50 SHOES have had the squeak all pulled out; they're warranted not to wake the dead when you use them. They're made of fine stock and look well, and we want a chance to show every Missourian that we're all right.

Choose Your Druggist Carefully

A druggist can do more harm or good than most people give him credit for.

There are different qualities in drugs, just as there are in dry goods, and to the outsider all qualities go by the same name.

The difference between pure, high grade drugs, and cheap, inferior drugs of the same name means the difference between getting sick and keeping well. When a doctor writes a prescription he means best quality. When some druggists fill a prescription they think only of big profits.

Choose your druggist carefully.

Section Director.

GONE TO WILLIAMS.—Dr. J. C. Norton went to Williams on this morning's train on sanitary business. He will be absent several days.

IT IS THE FIRST.—Charles Gray is the father of a new boy, born on Tuesday. It is the first and Mr. Gray is a person of much more importance than he will think he is on the next and all other occurrences of this event.

AFTER A HORSE THIEF.—Two horses were stolen from John Baggione on Monday night. The officers proceeded at once to take the census of the horse thieves with whom they are acquainted and found that a couple of them were missing and unaccounted for. The sheriff is in charge of this case.

A GREAT PRODUCER.—J. K. Truman brought to the board of trade yesterday a limb about four feet long, from a plum tree on his ranch near the Indian school. The limb was simply covered with fruit, the plums being as thick as they could have been fastened on, even by artificial means. The tree is certainly a great producer.

NEW CORPORATIONS.—Articles of incorporation of the San Quentin Smelter company were filed in the office of the county recorder. The capital stock is $600,000. The incorporators are E. Miller, J. C. Hezar, B. E. Escher and others of California. Articles were also filed of the Atlantic and Pacific Mining company. The capital stock is $3,000,000. Incorporators Lee S. Ovid, J. L. McMichael and N. M. Farrar.

HIS FIRST ANT CROP.—Mention was made a day or two ago of C. A. Larson's enterprise in fattening ants. The ants given out so much flesh on them that in two days they were ready for market, so he applied a little cyanide and killed them off. He is now ready for the next crop, and ants looking for a home already burrowed out will do well to apply to him. There is no fear but applications enough will come later. Ants are like original sin—they can be checked but never eradicated.

FAIN'S FREEDOM.—Judge Baker returned yesterday morning from Prescott, where the day before he secured the discharge of his client, William Fain, accused of complicity in the murder of Mrs. J. J. Burns near Yuma last spring. Fain's friends advised against his return to Yuma. He replied that he was going back, since he had committed no crime against anybody. Since his arrest his wife has died and his property has begun to go to wreck. His three children have been left without care. His property consists of 100 acres of land, on which he is making proof, and the stock on it.

SAVED FROM THE DESERT.—Joequin Lopez, better known by the nickname "pajaro" (small bird), got possession of too much whisky on Tuesday, and having no better place to store it, he put it into his stomach. From there a good part of it went to his head and produced a wild case of snakes. In his delirium the man started to the country and was overhauled at Glendale about 5 o'clock with his face turned toward the desert and his feet moving as rapidly as they could under the circumstances. Had he not been saved from himself, it is more than likely he would have perished on the desert.

SPECIAL ORDERS.—Special orders have been issued by Adjutant General Robinson, N. G. A., whereby the inspection ordered in general order No. 3, c. s. for Company G, First Infantry, Nogales, will be made by Brigadier General R. Allyn Lewis (retired), who is appointed as acting assistant inspector-general for this purpose. General Lewis will set the date for the inspection and notify headquarters and the commanding officer of G. company. The inspection ordered in general order No. 3, c. s. for I company will be made by Major General Hochderfer, First Infantry at an early date as practicable. Major Hochderfer will set the date for the inspection and notify the commanding officer of I company and headquarters. In both instances the inspection report must be made to headquarters within one week after the date of the inspection.

PROBATE COURT.—The principal business in probate court yesterday was the passing upon of claims against the estate of Calvin Ashley. One of the claimants was Emma Ashley, whose claim amounted to $119.75 for money advanced. It was supported by leaves from one of an old memorandum book in which the items were originally entered. Many of them, though, appeared to have been presents, and the court cut them out of the claim, allowing $109. The memorandum leaves contained on page six the item charged to Ashley some interesting but irrelevant matter. Somewhat by the name of George was charged with $80 taken at two different times and which was described as having been stolen by him. Another claimant against the estate was I. Frankfort of Michigan for $321.90, covering railroad and sleeping car fare and other expenses, beside services. It appeared that he had come here at the request of Emma Ashley to act as administrator of the estate, but he was not appointed. His claim was rejected. Other claims for burial expenses and medical services were allowed. Neil Creighton, commissioner of the estate of Anthony Neelan, filed a petition for discharge. Mrs. Jennie Hardy was appointed administratrix of the estate of Joseph Hardy.

POLICE COURT.—There were three sleeping drunks before the city recorder yesterday and each was given a five dollar sentence. They were an unusually light colored lot, as the services of a truck were necessary for the handling of each of them in the cooler. Diego Abril was discovered by Officer Russell. George Garcia was filed on by Captain Bush. Location notices were posted on Juan Murogo by both Officer Russell and Captain Bush, and Francisco Munoz was pre-arrested by Officer Porter and Officer Lawrence. But the sensation of the court proceedings was the trial of a woman accused of being a drunk walker. She pleaded not guilty, but had a terrible time trying to prove her innocence. Every officer on the force had a story to tell of how she had harassed both public and private places in her endeavor to lead poor, unprotected men astray. Officer Porter was the last man. He cross questioned her pretty closely. He said: "Don't you remember the time you stood on the corner of Second and Madison streets and winked at me and made me go to my eyes at me and tried to get up a flirtation?" In a moment of forgetfulness the woman answered: "Was that you?" If God will forgive me I will never wink another eye at such a looking fellow as you are." When the court recovered from this amusement he gave the accused ten days, along with a few words of wholesome advice, and then said that inasmuch as she had expressed a desire to work if she could get the opportunity he would suspend sentence during good behavior.

GLOBE SIGHTS.

It is so dry that lightning bugs are setting fire to the grass.

This is what philosophy amounts to: "I do it, but you should not."

What bright things we say in repartee in conversation we imagine.

This weather makes the average man as cross as a banker out of balance.

A doctor should not take his own medicine, and a saloon keeper should not drink his own drinks.

A man should not be blamed for the mistakes he makes; he should be credited as he profits by them.

"It is getting serious," a man said today, speaking of the drought. It has been serious for some time.

It is said that one of the nicest men in Atchison is nice because his wife whips him and keeps him regulated.

A homely woman shouldn't wear a sun-bonnet, because she looks worse, and a pretty woman shouldn't hide her good looks under one.

If you want to get a boy up early in the morning promise him something at exactly 5 a. m. and no other time and he will be there.

We have quit scolding at boys about their hands and feet. If this drought keeps on the city council will have to compel everyone to go unshod.

If we were a member of the Sunshine club, we would change its name in this weather to Cloudy club, and have people glad to hear about us.

A recent Atchison bride had twelve dozen hats in her outfit, one dozen of which cost $9 a pair. It will wear out a lot of hats, however, to sustain such a pace in after life.

Most love stories end with wedding bells, but one out at El Dorado ends up with the figures 3.51, by which the girl who loved will be known hereafter, in the penitentiary.

A man thinks he has a right to be homely, but will not admit such a right in a woman.

Since the recent advance in the price of lemons, people are not so cordial in offering lemonade.

"There comes my special," said a brakeman today, as he looked up and saw his wife approaching.

It may be that you haven't more trouble than others, but that you have more time to think about it.

When a man goes to a strange town so many a rich, pretty girl, he may expect to be severely criticised.

A section man receives only $1.25 a day. Ever think about it. Everything a section man picks up is heavy.

When a caller sees a book she would like to borrow, she hovers around it until she is given a chance to pick it off.

When a cross baby cries to go to its mother, its father is perfectly willing for once that it should have just what it wants.

The people tell too much of themselves, considering that everyone, at sometime, and in every phase of life, has a successor.

It very often happens that a woman's claim that she cannot even cook potatoes is pure affectation. All western girls have had their turn in kitchen work.

The warmest day of the season at Tent City, Coronado Beach, Cal., this year was 82 degrees at noon, at 3 p. m. of the same day it was only 76 degrees, and by the sea too—what a paradise.

EVERY CONVENIENCE PROVIDED.

Since going into the drug business in this city Elvey & Hukle have spent a great deal of time and an small amount of money on their "soft drinks" or soda fountain department. They now have about everything one can mention in the way of conveniences for themselves and comfort for their patrons.

The counter in front of the fountain has been lengthened to about fifteen feet and beneath it is an arrangement for the accommodation of all the necessities of a first class bar. Behind is the big onyx fountain, as pretty a one as can be found anywhere, and shelves for holding the extra glassware needed on such days. In the center of the stone and in the alcove by the door are handsome tables and chairs and sofa for the comfort of guests and they are crowded the greater part of the time during this hot weather. The fruit extracts, ice cream, and in fact about everything used in the serving of the dozens of popular drinks, are made in the rear rooms, which are connected with the front end of the store by an electric bell service, so additional help or supplies may be secured any time by pressing the button.

TEXAS POSTMASTERS.

Galveston, Tex., July 17.—Postmasters of many of the first and second class cities of the state, members of the Texas Postmasters' association, assembled here in third annual convention today. Postmaster Brush of Austin, president of the association, called the gathering to order, and Postmaster Griffin welcomed the visitors on behalf of the city of Galveston. A number of matters affecting the postal service are to be discussed during the two days the convention is in session.
